The Chapter's Current Standing

This semester has been ultimately a success story for the Iota Chapter. The chapter has resolved many of the issues and problems that have plagued us over the recent years such as the chapter's financial situation and also the state of our house.

The chapter, for the first time in a long time, has a surplus of chapter funds. As seen in the annual budget report the Chapter has a surplus of $13,000. This is due mainly, to the Chapter's active engagement into collecting past dues and other debts owed by both current and past members of the Iota Chapter. The money has also been allocated to rush and community service events. However, the money has chiefly been used into fixing the house.

As far as house renovations and repairs go, the chapter is currently right on track. The fume hood and the lighting on the patio have both been completely fixed, as well as most of the doors and plumbing. However, the chapter recognizes that the repairs are far from over and plans to continue to make a conscious effort to fix all of the various issues with the house it can. The chapter will also budget its money accordingly to these repairs. We would like to thank the alumni for being so supportive during this process. We realize that much of this renovation would not have been possible without your help, and we are extremely gratefully for it.

Fall Rush 2010

We had a very successful fall Rush this semester with five pledges. Their names are Stephen Brown, Addison Dean, Thomas Cathey, Douglas Thayer and Clayton Tucker. They are all fine individuals and have exhibited many qualities that are found within a Kappa Sigma. There has been a introduction of new assignments into the process of educating the pledges. These new assignments have strengthened the pledges unity toward each other and ultimately improved the quality of themselves as individuals. We look forward to all of you meeting these new pledges and giving them advice on their way to becoming a Kappa Sigma.

Social Events

Socially, Iota has stood out on campus this semester as exceptionally responsible- a big achievement, especially for us. For much of the semester, Kappa Sigma was the only fraternity not on social probation, which earned the chapter nods from both Dean Leese and SU PD. Masquerade was also quite successful, and has, among other things, helped spark interest in quite a few potential rushees. The presence of a house band has also helped us make a name for ourselves this semester, and live music has again become a staple of Study Breaks and weekend parties alike. Upcoming scheduled events include Serenades and mixers for the most part, along with the upcoming Pledge Party on November 19th. All things considered, the chapter remains proud that Kappa Sigma still retains its reputation as a safe environment for all SU students to come, enjoy themselves, and even let their hair down occasionally.
